However, among the most typical concerns potential chauffeurs ask is: How much is this really going to cost?

Browsing the financial requirements of getting a license in Hungary can be challenging, as fees are broken down into numerous stages. This thorough guide breaks down every expenditure associated with the Hungarian driving license procedure, including tuition, medical examinations, official charges, and concealed costs, complete with estimated tables to help budget plan effectively.

The Step-by-Step Breakdown of Costs

To understand the overall cost of a Hungarian driving license (generally Category B for automobiles), one should take a look at the specific mandatory actions required by the Hungarian authorities.

1. Mandatory Medical Examination

Before getting behind the wheel or even enrolling in a driving school, applicants need to prove they are physically and psychologically fit to drive.

- The Process: A check out to a local General Practitioner (GP) or an occupational health doctor.
- Cost: Generally ranges from 7,000 HUF to 10,000 HUF depending upon the practitioner's age guidelines and clinic costs.

2. Emergency Treatment Certification (Elsősegélynyújtási Ismeretek)

Passing an emergency treatment course and examination managed by the Hungarian Red Cross (Magyar Vöröskereszt) is a necessary legal requirement before the final license can be issued.

- The Process: A short training course followed by a useful and theoretical test. Those with certain medical or healthcare degrees may be exempt from the course, however everybody must pay the exam cost.
- Cost: The course typically costs 15,000 HUF to 25,000 HUF, while the official exam cost is set at a flat rate of 10,500 HUF.

3. Theory Training and Examination (KRESZ)

The first academic obstacle is the KRESZ (Road Traffic Regulations) test.

- The Process: Students should complete a minimum of 28 hours of theory training. This can be done in a standard class setting or by means of an e-learning platform (which is significantly popular among expats due to English-language schedule). When the theory is mastered, trainees take a computer-based multiple-choice exam at a government screening center.

- Cost: E-learning courses vary from 30,000 HUF to 50,000 HUF, while classroom courses might cost somewhat more. The main KRESZ exam cost is 4,600 HUF.

4. Practical Training and Driving Lessons

This is where the bulk of the budget plan goes. In Hungary, students must finish a minimum variety of driving hours, in addition to drive a specific range, before they are permitted to take the useful examination.

- The Requirements: A minimum of 29 driving lessons (plus 1 examination hour), amounting to a minimum of 580 kilometers driven.
- The Reality: Very few students pass the minimum requirement on the very first shot. Most learners require between 35 to 50 lessons to feel great and pass the exam. Driving school lesson costs have risen considerably due to inflation and fuel expenses.
- Expense: Individual lessons currently cost in between 8,000 HUF and 12,000 HUF per hour (greater in Budapest, lower in smaller sized towns).
- Practical Exam Fee: The main test charge set by the federal government is 11,000 HUF.
