

Driving in Midland During the Permian Basin Boom Drive Loop 250 north around shift change and you can watch the Permian Basin economy in real time. Water haulers, frac sand trucks and white company pickups merge alongside minivans on the school run. Big Spring Street and the Andrews Highway carry a similar mix, and so does Interstate 20 heading east past Midland Industrial Park. Oil and gas activity keeps Midland busy, and all that work puts a steady stream of heavy vehicles on the same streets families use every day. Heavy loads take a toll.

Constant truck traffic auto wreck attorney Midland wears down pavement, and the repairs bring construction zones with narrowed lanes, shifting traffic patterns and sudden stops. Out on the two-lane rural highways that connect lease sites, passing gets risky when a loaded truck is holding a steady pace and the pickup behind it isn't willing to wait. Long shifts leave drivers worn out on the way home. The flat, straight roads across Midland County make it tempting to push the speed a little higher than you should. The crash numbers show how serious this can get. According to Texas DPS figures cited on the firm's Midland page, Midland and Midland County saw 4,441 reported crashes in 2017, including 38 fatal crashes that took 50 lives and 113 serious crashes with 133 incapacitating injuries. The same source reported 929 DUI or DWI arrests in 2016. Behind each number is a family dealing with trips to Midland Memorial Hospital, missed paychecks and a damaged vehicle sitting in a shop somewhere in east Midland.

For crash victims, the boom changes the shape of a claim. A wreck with a commercial truck may involve a trucking company, an oilfield service business and several insurers, each with its own adjusters and its own version of events. Coverage may go well beyond the Texas minimum of 30/60/25, but reaching it usually takes solid evidence. The Doan Law Firm handles car accidents, commercial truck crashes and oil field incidents from what it calls its Midland/Odessa office. The team investigates beyond the police report, calculates both economic and non-economic losses, and prepares for trial if the insurers won't be fair. Firm-wide, it has reported a $2 million settlement after a semi truck ran a red light, though every case turns on its own facts. The oil field keeps Midland working, and it also keeps the roads crowded. If you've been hurt in a crash on Loop 250, Interstate 20 or anywhere across the Basin, a Midland car accident lawyer can explain your options and the two-year deadline that applies to most injury claims. If you were hurt, missed work or the other driver's insurer is disputing fault, a lawyer usually pays for themselves. The Doan Law Firm offers free consultations at its West Illinois Avenue office, so you can find out whether your Midland crash needs legal help before you commit to anything. For a small bumper scrape with no injuries, you may not need one at all, and the team will tell you so. What percentage do accident attorneys usually take? Most car accident lawyers work on contingency, meaning the fee is a percentage of what they recover and nothing if they lose. The Doan Law Firm handles Midland car accident cases this way, with no upfront cost and no fee unless the firm wins. The exact percentage is set out in writing in your fee agreement before any work begins. How much of a $25,000 settlement will I actually receive? Your share depends on the agreed contingency fee, any case expenses and what is owed to medical providers or health insurers who paid for your treatment. A good lawyer will often negotiate those medical balances down, which can put more money in your pocket. Call (432) 653-0000 and the Midland team can walk you through how the numbers would work in your situation. How long do you have to call a lawyer after a car accident in Texas? Texas gives you two years from the crash to file most injury lawsuits, but waiting that long is risky. Camera footage from businesses along Loop 250 or Wadley Avenue can be erased within days, and witness memories fade fast. The Doan Law Firm answers its Midland line 24 hours a day, so it makes sense to call once your immediate medical needs are handled. Do insurance companies want you to get a lawyer? Generally not. Adjusters often push for quick settlements before you speak to anyone, because an unrepresented claim usually costs them less. Once The Doan Law Firm is involved, insurers deal with the firm directly instead of calling you. Founder Jimmy Doan was named to the Top 25 Motor Vehicle Trial Lawyers in 2026, and insurers know which firms are prepared to go to court. What should you not tell your insurance company after a crash? Avoid apologizing, guessing about speed or distances, or saying you feel fine before a doctor has checked you. Anything you say in a recorded statement can be used to argue you share the blame, which matters under Texas rules that cut your recovery by your percentage of fault. The Doan Law Firm can handle those calls for you from the start. What is the biggest mistake people make with a car accident claim? Delaying medical treatment is one of the most costly. Gaps between the crash and your first doctor visit give insurers room to argue your injuries came from something else. Whether you go to Midland Memorial Hospital or an urgent care clinic, get checked quickly. Midland clients of The Doan Law Firm say the team helped them arrange treatment within about a week. How much can you get for pain and suffering in Texas? There is no fixed formula or cap in ordinary Texas car accident cases. The amount depends on how serious your injuries are, how long recovery takes and how the crash changed your daily life. The Doan Law Firm documents both economic losses and non-economic harm, such as pain, mental anguish and physical impairment, before negotiating with insurers. What is the hardest injury to prove after a car accident? Injuries that don't show up on an X-ray, like whiplash, soft tissue damage, mild traumatic brain injury and post-crash anxiety, are often the hardest to prove. Consistent treatment records, doctor notes and a daily pain journal help. The Midland team investigates beyond the police report to build evidence that insurers can't easily dismiss. Can I get compensation for anxiety after a car accident? Yes, Texas law allows recovery for mental anguish when it is tied to the crash and properly documented. Fear of driving, trouble sleeping and panic attacks after a wreck on I-20 or SH 191 are real harms. The Doan Law Firm can connect clients with trusted medical professionals so these effects are recorded and valued fairly. How likely is it to get sued after a car accident in Midland? Most crash claims settle through insurance without anyone being personally sued, especially when the at-fault driver carries at least the Texas minimum of 30/60/25 coverage. Lawsuits become more likely when injuries are serious and exceed the policy limits. If you have received a demand letter or lawsuit, call The Doan Law Firm at (432) 653-0000 to talk through your options. When should you contact a Midland car accident lawyer? Ideally before you speak with the other driver's insurance adjuster or sign anything. Early contact lets the firm preserve evidence, request the Texas CR-3 crash report and handle insurer calls from day one. The Doan Law Firm's office at 4500 W Illinois Ave #203 is open around the clock, and the first consultation is always free.
