Core Strategies for Mines Players

While Mines is basically a game of opportunity, gamers often utilize different systems to handle their bankroll and control danger.

1. The Strategy of Low Mines

Numerous conservative gamers choose to play with just 1 or 2 mines. This turns the game into a "grind," where the objective is to hit a few tiles, collect a small profit, and transfer to the next round. While the payouts per round are little, the frequency of wins is higher.

2. High Risk, High Reward

Some players prefer setting the mines to 10 or more. Because the multiplier jumps substantially with every effective expose, just two or 3 clicks are required to double the preliminary bet. This method is for those comfortable with high difference and regular losses.

3. Martingale Betting

Obtained from Roulette, the Martingale system involves doubling your bet after every loss. The reasoning is that when you lastly win, you recover all previous losses plus a small profit. Caution: This strategy needs a substantial bankroll and need to be utilized with severe caution to prevent striking table limits or diminishing funds.
