Suite 414 at 9201 Sunset Blvd sits on the western stretch of the Sunset Strip, close to where West Hollywood meets the Doheny Drive edge of Beverly Hills. It is the single office of Dr. Jacob Sedgh, a double board-certified facial plastic surgeon whose practice is limited to the nose, face, ears and neck. Patients come to this one location for consultations, surgical planning and every follow-up visit, so it helps to know how the address connects to the rest of the city before the first appointment. From the Westside, the main east and west boulevards do most of the work. Patients coming from Brentwood or Bel Air often follow Sunset Blvd east through Beverly Hills, which leads straight onto the Strip. From Westwood, near UCLA, or from Century City and the Century City shopping center area, Santa Monica Blvd is a common choice, running east toward West Hollywood before a short turn north. Those in the Beverly Hills Flats, south of Sunset and down toward Wilshire, are already close, and Doheny Drive is a direct way up to the Sunset Strip. Patients further south and west sometimes use the 405 or the 10 to reach a convenient boulevard before heading Los Angeles Nose Job north.

From the south and the middle of the city, the north and south routes matter more. Patients from Culver City, the Westfield Culver City area, Palms or Mar Vista often take Robertson Blvd or La Cienega Blvd north, passing the Beverly Center and the Cedars-Sinai Medical Center neighborhood on the way. Those in Cheviot Hills, Rancho Park, Beverlywood or Pico-Robertson can follow similar routes. From Mid-City, the Miracle Mile and Museum Row on Wilshire, or the Fairfax district, it is common to head north toward Melrose Avenue and Santa Monica Blvd, then continue past the Pacific Design Center toward Sunset. Traffic in Los Angeles varies by the hour, so leaving some margin before an appointment is sensible. The office is open Monday to Friday, 9am to 5pm, and consultations are by appointment. That first visit is where a patient discusses goals and concerns and receives a medical evaluation that decides candidacy. Dr. Sedgh is board certified in otolaryngology, so breathing is assessed together with appearance, and his rhinoplasty work covers primary and revision cases, ethnic and Asian rhinoplasty, male rhinoplasty, septorhinoplasty and functional nasal surgery for a deviated septum. Because follow-up appointments continue for some time after surgery, patients planning a Los Angeles nose job often find it useful to think ahead about the route they will take on each visit and whether a friend or family member can drive them home on the day of surgery. Parking arrangements can be confirmed with the office when booking. Every nose is different and results vary, and the risks are discussed openly at consultation. FAQ About Los Angeles Nose Job What is the average cost of a nose job in Los Angeles? There is no single figure, because the fee depends on whether the surgery is primary or revision, how much structural work is needed, and the anesthesia and surgical facility costs. Revision and combined functional and cosmetic cases usually take longer than a straightforward primary rhinoplasty. At Jacob Sedgh, MD in West Hollywood, a written quote follows the consultation once Dr. Sedgh has examined the nose and agreed a plan with the patient. How long does a nose job last? The structural changes from rhinoplasty are designed to be permanent, although the nose continues to age naturally with the rest of the face. Swelling settles gradually, and the tip can take a year or more to show its final definition. Dr. Jacob Sedgh follows patients through that first year from his office on Sunset Blvd. Is rhinoplasty 100% safe? No surgery is free of risk. Rhinoplasty carries risks such as bleeding, infection, breathing changes, asymmetry and the possibility of needing revision. Dr. Sedgh, a double board-certified facial plastic surgeon, reviews medical history, candidacy and specific risks at consultation so patients can make an informed decision before anything is scheduled. How do I choose a rhinoplasty surgeon in Los Angeles? Look at board certification, the surgeon's training, how much of their practice is devoted to the nose, and before and after photos of noses similar to yours. Dr. Jacob Sedgh trained in head and neck surgery at the University of Pittsburgh and completed a facial plastic surgery fellowship at Penn State Hershey, and his practice is limited to the nose, face, ears and neck. A consultation is also a chance to judge how clearly a surgeon explains the plan. Do ENT surgeons do rhinoplasty? Many facial plastic surgeons, including Dr. Sedgh, began in otolaryngology, the ENT specialty, before completing fellowship training in facial plastic and reconstructive surgery. That background means the septum, airway and nasal valves are part of every rhinoplasty plan, not only the outside shape. Patients with breathing complaints can have functional and cosmetic goals assessed together in West Hollywood. Can insurance cover any part of a nose job? Purely cosmetic rhinoplasty is not covered by insurance. Functional work, such as correcting a deviated septum that blocks breathing, may be partly covered when the problem is documented and the plan's criteria are met. Jacob Sedgh, MD can explain which parts of a combined procedure are functional and which are cosmetic; call (310) 888-2884 to ask. What is recovery like after rhinoplasty? Most patients wear a splint for about the first week and see the worst bruising and swelling fade over the following weeks, although every recovery is different. Strenuous exercise, glasses resting on the nose and strong sun are usually limited for a period. Dr. Sedgh uses the Piezo ultrasonic system for bone work, which published studies associate with less early bruising, and he gives each patient written aftercare instructions. Is it better to have a nose job abroad or in Los Angeles? Surgery abroad can look cheaper at first, but follow-up visits, managing complications and any future revision are much harder from another country. Having rhinoplasty in Los Angeles keeps the surgeon within reach for the whole first year of healing. Patients from across the city, including Beverly Hills, Century City, Westwood and Culver City, see Dr. Sedgh at one office on the Sunset Strip. What is male rhinoplasty? Male rhinoplasty adapts the operation to masculine facial features, usually keeping a straighter, stronger bridge and avoiding an over-rotated or overly narrow tip. Many men also want better breathing at the same time. Dr. Jacob Sedgh plans male rhinoplasty around the brow, cheekbones and jawline so the nose stays in proportion with the face. What is revision rhinoplasty and when is it needed? Revision rhinoplasty corrects concerns that remain after an earlier nose surgery, whether cosmetic or functional. It is more intricate than a first operation because of scar tissue, reduced cartilage and changed skin. Dr. Sedgh evaluates the previous surgery and generally advises waiting until the nose has fully settled before planning a revision at his West Hollywood practice. What is the difference between open and closed rhinoplasty? Open rhinoplasty adds a small incision across the columella, the strip of skin between the nostrils, which gives the surgeon a direct view of the tip structures. Closed rhinoplasty keeps all incisions inside the nose. The right approach depends on the anatomy and the changes needed, and Dr. Sedgh explains his recommendation at consultation. Is a non-surgical nose job permanent? A non-surgical nose job uses injectable filler to smooth a bump or lift the tip, and the effect is temporary. Filler cannot make a nose smaller or improve breathing, and it carries its own risks. Jacob Sedgh, MD offers both injectable and surgical options and can explain which suits a patient's goals; call (310) 888-2884 to book a consultation.
